Themed 'Transforming Tomorrow's Cities with Clean Environment Solutions', the CleanEnviro Summit Singapore (CESS) 2018 is a global platform for industry and government leaders to share practical, replicable and scalable solutions to address environmental challenges in tomorrow's cities.

Benefits of Attending CESS 2018

- Gain key insights into optimisation, automation, behavioural sciences, and smart grids and sensors at the Clean Environment Convention, where industry leaders, academics and regulators exchange innovative breakthroughs, latest findings, and unique insights relating to the industry sectors of Waste Management, Cleaning, Pest Management, Sustainable Energy, and Pollution Control.
- Connect with environmental leaders at the Clean Environment Leaders Summit, where renowned panellists share their expertise in the latest environmental trends, policies and solutions for a sustainable future, innovative business concepts that incorporate sustainability strategies, and environmental technologies that businesses can leverage. The panel discussion topics will include smart regulations, business innovations and green growth models, and future technologies and solutions.
- Hear from environmental leaders and technical experts at the Leaders-Experts Forum, a plenary session where best practices, strategies and technological solutions are discussed, and the latest technological and technical trends in environmental innovation are shared.
- Expand your business network and forge valuable new connections with fellow industry leaders, policy makers, and solutions providers.
- Discover the latest in cutting-edge environmental solutions at the Environment @ City Solutions Singapore Expo.
